A Note from the Pastor

It is hard to image that Lent is already upon us! It seems like just a few days ago we were celebrating the birth of our Savior and now Ash Wednesday is quickly approaching and we begin our preparation for His death and Resurrection. Easter is fairly early this year, so it hardly seems time enough to get ready.

Let
My People
Go!

At first it may seem too rushed that we end one and begin the other so soon, but it might actually be a good thing. It forces us to remember that this baby whose birth we celebrate came with one destination in mind – the cross – and this destination was for one reason – grace!

This year as we prepare our hearts and minds for the sacrifice of God's Son upon the cross because of our guilt and for the celebration of the new life we receive through His Resurrection, we will focus on the way in which God leads us through the "wilderness" of this life to enter His eternal "Promised Land" as exemplified to us in the Exodus.

God calls Moses to lead His people, but Moses makes excuses. Moses calls for Pharaoh to Let His People Go, but Pharaoh refuses. The people of Israel are called into a covenantal relationship with Him, but they are unfaithful. In spite of this, God demonstrates His great might and mercy as He saves His people and takes them into His rest... after 40 years of wandering.

We won't take 40 years, but 40 days, to hear God's Word and learn to come to Him for salvation. I invite each of you to join us on Wednesday evenings to share in fellowship at our meals and to receive God's grace as we worship. We will look closer at how God so richly pours out His love and mercy each time we gather together in His name to hear His Word, to confess our sins and receive forgiveness, and to come to Him for salvation. May God's grace richly bless you this Lenten season as each day we learn to follow the one who gives us that salvation – Jesus Christ!

Following our Lord of Salvation through this wilderness,

Pastor Matthias Dinger
